Letter of Recommendation

From 2015 to 2019 in Maria Curie Skłodowska University in Lublin, Jacek Szmalec, PhD, taught classes from the “Methods of therapy of individuals with autism” module during his postgraduate studies “Diagnosis, therapy and education of individuals with autism”.

According to students, Jacek Szmalec demonstrated broad theoretical knowledge and wide professional experience regarding the class he was teaching. On anonymous surveys completed for evaluation purposes, students recognized Jacek Szmalec’s professional knowledge, as well as his friendliness, giving him the greatest scores in/for the following: practical solutions, theoretical knowledge in the field of physical therapy, anatomy, neurology and occupational therapy, adjusting the content to the needs of the group and the opportunity to actively participate in discussion.

Based on our long-term good cooperation and taking into consideration the personal and professional competencies of Jacek Szmalec, I consider him able to perform the duties of a teaching fellow in an institution of higher education.
